

Morseroom - Privacy Policy

Sep 2015

Our promise in keeping your contact information

At Morseroom, we recognize that your privacy is important. This Privacy Policy explains how your information is protected, accumulated, and utilized. If Morseroom makes any meaningful modifications to this Privacy Policy, Morseroom will notify you by posting a notice on the Morseroom website.

1. Protecting Your Privacy

Morseroom engages in the following endeavors to protect your privacy:

- a. Morseroom does not share your information with third parties for marketing purposes.
- b. Morseroom does not engage in cross-marketing or link-referral programs with other websites.
- c. Morseroom does not employ tracking devices such as cookies, web beacons, or single-pixel gifs, for marketing purposes.
- d. Morseroom does not send you unsolicited communications for marketing purposes.
- e. Morseroom does not knowingly collect any information from persons under the age of 13.
- f. Morseroom, or people who use Morseroom, may provide links to third party websites, which may have different privacy practices.
- h. Morseroom is not responsible for, nor has any control over, the privacy policies of those third party websites, and encourages all users to read the privacy policies of each and every website visited.

2. Data Morseroom Manages

Morseroom sometimes collects your email address for such purposes as, but not limited to, sending self-publishing and confirmation emails. Though Morseroom earnestly tries in good faith to keep the information securely, Morseroom cannot guarantee complete security.

3. Circumstances In Which Morseroom May Release Information

Morseroom may disclose information if required by law or in the belief in good faith that such disclosure is reasonably necessary to respond to subpoenas, court orders, or other legal processes. Morseroom may also disclose information to law enforcement officers or others, in the belief in good faith that such disclosure is reasonable necessary to satisfy any applicable law, enforce the Terms of Use, respond to Content that violates the rights of third-parties, address security and technical issues, and protect the rights, property, and safety of Morseroom, its users, or the general public as required or permitted by law.

4. Limitations

This Privacy Policy only applies to Morseroom Services and the Morseroom website. Morseroom is not liable for links to other websites that may be posted or otherwise made available on Morseroom. These other websites may collect data or solicit personal information from you. For the safety of your personal information, please review the privacy policies of each and every website you visit.

5. Security

The security of your Personal Information is important to us, but remember that no method of transmission over the Internet, or method of electronic storage, is 100% secure. While we strive to use commercially acceptable means to protect your Personal Information, we cannot guarantee its absolute security.

6. Changes To This Privacy Policy

Morseroom may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. We will notify you of any changes by posting the new Privacy Policy on the Site/Blog. You are advised to review this Privacy Policy periodically for any changes.

7. Contact us
